13 Districts Form Cooperative School Program

The Southwest Cook County association for Special Education, serving 13 elementary school districts, enrolling more than 9,000 children in Bremen, Rich, Orland, Palos and Worth townships is now a reality.

Superintendents of school districts 117 North Palos, 118 Palos, 127 Worth, 128 Palos Heights, 135 Orland Park, 138 Maue, 140 Kirby-McIntosh, 142 Forest Ridge, 143 Midlothian, 144 Markham, 145 Arbor Park, 146 Tinley Park, and 160 Country Club Hills, met recently at the office of the Tinley Park schools to elect their officers and committee members, as authorized by resolutions adopted by their Boards of Education.

Superintendents Walter F. Fierke of the Tinley Park schools and J. Lewis Winegarner of the Markham schools, who have served as chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Assn. of Superintendents who planned the structure of the association and guided it thru more than a year of organizational efforts, were chosen to fill those offices until June of 1960.

The executive board of the association, consisting of the superintendents of the co-operating school districts, approved Chairman Fierke's appointment of Supt. Norbert Jerling of Orland Park as the chairman of the 3-member advisory committee with Supt. Rosemary Lucas of North Shore and Supt. J. Lewis Winegarner as members.

The executive board also approved Chairman Fierke's appointments of Supts. Z. F. Sykuta of the Country Club Hills schools as chairman of the budgetary committee, with Superintendents Lee R. Foster of Forest Ridge school and L. H. Krell of the Palos Heights schools as members.

The advisory board was authorized to employ an executive director for the association. This task will be a very exacting one, since there are few persons qualified by training experience for such positions. The committee will contact all colleges and universities of the midwest and in eastern states who train such persons, and persons who seem to be qualified will be interviewed.

While the process of setting up special education classes is difficult because of the many specific directives given by state-level officials who control these classes and authorize the reimbursement for them, it is hoped some classes will be operational by next September.

Children of the cooperating school districts will be given preference in admissions to these classes. Each cooperating school district will be expected to house and operate some special education class as soon as it is financially and physically possible. Costs of the classes will be prorated to the cooperating schools according to their respective total enrollments of children.

Administrative offices for the association are located in the Tinley Park schools, 17247 7th ave., Tinley Park. Correspondence should be directed to Walter F. Fierke, chairman of the association.

Mokena Firemen To Hold Card Party Saturday

Two nights of fun are planned by the Mokena Community Volunteer Fire Dept. and the public is invited to participate.

It has been the custom for the fire department to hold a pinocle tournament in conjunction with its annual dance. The tourney has grown to such proportions that this year it was decided to keep the two events separate and thus provide more room for the participants.

Orland Park, Frankfort, New Lenox, Manhattan, Mokena Elect Officers

Not all incumbents were successful in the village elections in the area on Tuesday.

Paul E. Voss, up for reelection at Orland Park, and Wayne DePorto, member of the Frankfort village board, were beaten. At Manhattan one of the two incumbents up for reelection, Edward Miller, finished in a dead heat with Dale Vander Boegh, so the winner will have to be determined by tossing a coin or drawing straws, if the official canvass shows that each received 109 votes, as it appears in the unofficial returns.

At New Lenox a complete list of village officers was elected, mayor, trustees and clerk.

Only trustees were elected at Mokena, Frankfort and Orland Park. Amos Massey is the new board member at Frankfort; Henry Shevlin at Mokena and George (Bud) Granat at Orland Park.

Blue skies and sunshine contributed to the success of election day in that more voters came out than usual when there are no burning issues at stake.

NEW LENOX

Stanley Gilmore, who served as trustee expired this spring was elected mayor. He polled 258 votes to Donald Anderson's 234.

Six ran for the three 4-year terms as village trustees. Evan Drotts led with 284 votes; Chester Bowman was second with 268 and Eugene McGovney, third with 264. Eugene Hunt finished fourth with 241. The other two candidates and their votes were Robert Buckler, 197 and John Brent, 137.

Noel Elliott, who is completing a regular 4-year term on the board, was elected to a two year term to fill vacancy left by the resignation of Leonard Heimerdinger. Elliott, who was unopposed, received 448 votes and Robert J. McCleary, reelected village clerk without opposition, polled 459 votes.

ORLAND PARK

A total of 466 votes was cast at Orland Park, a large number for an "off year" election. Three trustees were elected to the village board and there were six candidates.

Melvin H. Doogan, an incumbent, led in the voting with 308. George Granat, a newcomer to the board, was second with 225 and Lloyd E. Cowan, an incumbent, was third with 213.

Settles Suit For $66,250

A settlement for $66,250 was made Monday in the law suit of Arthur Borg, 57, of Frankfort township against Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., and the Yunker Impl. Co. at Orland Park, after it had been called for trial in the circuit court in Chicago.

The suit was brought by Mr. Borg following an accident on his farm south of Frankfort near U.S. 45. Mr. Borg stated he bought an Allis-Chalmers tractor May 7th, 1954 from the Yunker Implement Co.

Ten days later when he was plowing, the plow became stuck in the earth and when he attempted to extricate it, with a chain, the tractor tipped over on him.

Mr. Borg's attorney, Philip E. Ryan of Chicago, stated he was prepared to give evidence that the tractor tipped over because the clutch failed to release.

Mr. Borg was a patient in St. James hospital, Chicago Heights for 13 weeks where it was found necessary to amputate his left leg above the knee. He was out of work 13 months. Mr. Borg is employed in the composing room of the Chicago Tribune.

Sewer Meeting At Frankfort Next Wednesday

A public meeting to discuss the proposed new sanitary sewer system for Frankfort will be held next Wednesday night, April 29, at 8 o'clock in the Frankfort village hall.

Village officials, including Robert Hamilton, village engineer, will be on hand, as will a representative of the bond house that will handle the financing of the project, to explain any details or answer questions.

A civic committee, made up of representatives from various organizations in Frankfort are canvassing the community now to explain the sewer program.

It is possible that the project will have been explained so thoroughly that attendance at next Wednesday's meeting will be small.

A vote on the issuance of $140,000 in general obligations bonds to finance a part of the sewer program is to be conducted at Frankfort a week from Saturday. This special election is set for May 2.

Approval of the contract with the bond house has been given by the village board and at the next meeting it will be formally signed.

Condon, McDougal and M. B. Vick have agreed to purchase the bonds at interest rates of 4.221% on the G. O.'s and 4.983 on the revenue issue. They also have agreed to freeze this rate until Nov. 2, so in the event the interest rates go up the village will be protected, it was explained.

At the meeting of the Frankfort village board Monday night the recommendation of the zoning board of appeals to reclassify the property of Nathan Sager and the S & S Sink Top company from B1 to I-1 (light industry) was approved by the trustees.

Sager was apprised, however, that he would have to abide by the regulations of the building code and he stated that he would do so. The principal point involved deals with the provision that on new zoning 20% of the business or light industrial site must be set up for off street parking and truck loading operations.

An interpretation of this part of the code is being sought from the planning engineers retained by the village. One of the points raised is whether a loading dock inside the building complies with the regulations.

The sink top firm has property that extends from Kansas street to Nebraska. It plans to erect an addition at the Nebraska street end.

Care of the baseball diamond at the Frankfort community park was the last subject to be brought before the board Monday and the resultant discussion lasted more than an hour.

Sandburg Science Symposium

Princeton Professor to Speak

Featuring one of the nation's most popular science lecturers, Carl Sandburg High school will be the scene of a science mathematics symposium attracting 10 outstanding students from the seven member schools of the Southwest Suburban conference.

The event, probably the only one of its kind among high schools today, will take place May 12. The program is designed to allow an exchange of ideas among students in the conference and to hear an outstanding man of the scientific world.

Professor Hubert N. Alvea, Department of Chemistry, Princeton University has made numerous radio and television appearances in addition to giving his lectures first hand to over a million people. His topic will be "Fission and Fusion—Weapons for peace."

Alvea's lectures are made alive with numerous experiments and direct applications to what is being done in today's research programs. He will speak following the banquet at about 7 pm.

Prior to the banquet and program, students will gather to hear the reading of papers and for discussion from 4:30 to 6 pm. Following the Alvea presentation, a display of the some 70 projects will be opened to the public.

Donald Hopkins, chairman of the Sandburg Science department, is in charge of the local arrangements and can be contacted for further information.

Advantageous Position

Mokena in Good Spot for Industry

"Mokena is in an excellent position to secure desirable industrial plants and probably the best position of any village in this area. You have completed your sewer and have a good water potential as well." This was the statement of E. T. Smith, industrial representative of the Rock Island railway at the regular meeting of the Mokena Plan Commission on Wednesday night of last week.

He went on to say that when Mokena has completed and filed its land use map with designation of what shall be industrial and what shall be residential areas, his railroad would actively promote Mokena as a desirable location for better grade industrial plants as this village has more to offer than many nearby villages. The trend of expansion is toward the southwest into the "open spaces" available in this general area. It was pointed out that other villages on his railroad do not have sewer facilities and also that, as yet, Mokena had not made poor zoning choices as to residential areas. He pointed out that often such poor zoning choices create situations that ruin the area desirability for what might normally be good industrial sites.

Mr. Smith pointed out that use of the term "industrial" is often misunderstood to mean heavy industry with smoke belching chimneys and with employees largely confined to unskilled labor whose social and economic status brings about homes of the the poorest grade and where slum conditions are likely to breed. He stated that this area is not suitable for such heavy industry, but is rather suited for what might be termed light industry which employs better grade help. He went on to state that he and his road believe that such industry would find a good labor market locally and that many people now commuting to Chicago, would be happy to find suitable employment close to home.

"Be sure to keep in mind that the better type industry will not invest a substantial amount of money in a plant without assurance that there is a complete segregation of residential and industrial areas." He elaborated on the point that the better type industry does not want the social and political problems that are the inevitable result of poor planning where residential and industrial areas are not completely separate. "Industrial plants are at least as anxious to avoid residential areas as the residential area is to avoid industrial installations."

Mr. Smith advised the plan commission that with completion and filing of the land use map, he was certain that the Rock Island would be able to induce industry of the warehouse and light industry type, to fill the area now designated as industrial and do this in less than five years. He also advised that it is not necessary to offer an industry any special favors under such conditions and that the best industry is accustomed to paying its way and wants to do so. It is also anxious to have the facilities offered in the way of sewer, water, fire and police protection. He pointed out that sewer use per acre, would be much smaller for an industrial plant than an equal area of homes. The point was further made that such industrial plants add millions to valuation for tax purposes, but do not send any children to school to add to the school costs.

It was brought out that the Rock Island and the utility firms operating thru Mokena now pay 30 per cent of the taxes collected in the Mokena school district. Mr. Smith remarked that school costs become a very heavy burden on a population without aid from industry in tax payments.

On the subject of "spot zoning" for industry, Mr. Smith said he had never seen this done successfully and the near by towns of Blue Island and Harvey are examples of the results of such spot zoning efforts. Now these two towns are spending considerable sums of money and effort to try and correct these previous errors. He stated he thought these towns may be years in their efforts achieve desirable planning due to planning failures of the past.

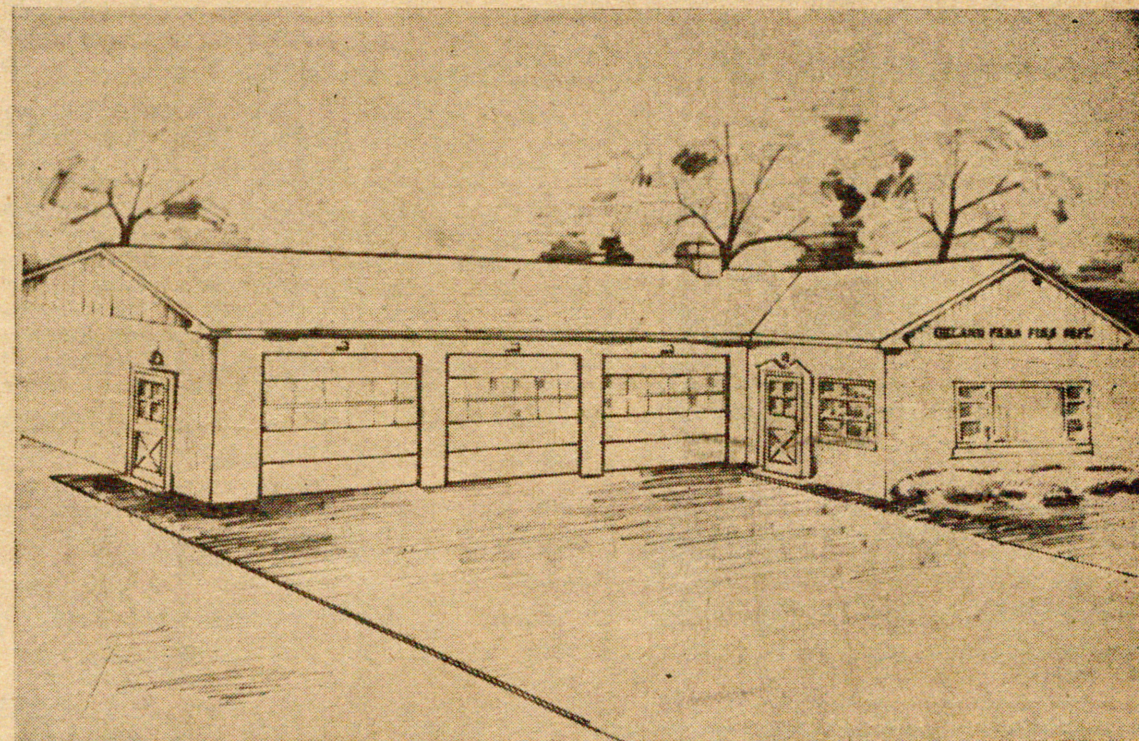

In conclusion, Mr. Smith remarked that, very naturally, his road is mainly interested in those towns on its road, but that Frankfort offers excellent industrial potential and that Frankfort and Mokena are fortunate in that they are working so closely together in their planning efforts. He felt that both towns will benefit from such joint efforts.

Mr. Hardy will conduct the classes in communication skills.

Anonymous grants of $3,000 have made possible the summer program.

Frankfort Near Goal in Annual Red Cross Drive

Frankfort has completed its drive for the American Red Cross. The community was assigned a target of $600 and came within $50 of attaining that figure, an excellent showing in comparison with many county towns.

Mrs. Herbert Folkers, chairman of the campaign at Frankfort, reported the total collection there to be $549.30.

"We are very pleased with our collection," Mrs. Folkers said, "but would have liked to have made our quota. If any one was missed or cares to make a contribution we would appreciate it if they would send a check."

The checks may be sent to Mrs. Folkers. She expressed her appreciation for the assistance given by the women who took part in the drive and all the contributors.

Mrs. J. C. Knight is treasurer of the Frankfort unit and Mrs. Bert Larson secretary. Women who participated in the drive were: Mesdames Fred Redman, Walter Schoen, Alfred Logan, James Delaney, Steve Kubeck, James Holz, Marion Bell, Wayne DePorto, Glen Ferrell, Frank Fleck, Harold Shifler, Herman Barlowort, John Van Donk, Marie Bettenhausen and Ted Massey.

N. Lenox Moves To Protect Its Sewer Plans

The New Lenox Village board went on record last week as being inclined to favorably consider annexation of the first addition of Warren Meadows, a proposed subdivision west and south of the present boundaries, providing the developers agree to certain conditions.

This first addition or unit contains 183 homesites.

On the recommendation of Mayor Lloyd Berlin the trustees were unanimous in support of a resolution drafted at the meeting by Village attorney William Penn.

This resolution — without the preamble — reads as follows:

"A — Developers shall deposit $75,000 with the Village treasurer to be applied to the cost of construction of a sewerage treatment plant to be undertaken by the village.

"B — The village shall immediately call an election for the purpose of obtaining approval of a general obligation bond issue to finance construction of a treatment plant of sufficient size to serve the entire village, plus the annexed area contemplated in paragraph A.

"C — The developers shall install and dedicate to the village, sewerage and water mains necessary to provide sufficient sewerage disposal and water service in annexed area and in accordance with plans and specifications previously submitted and approved by the plan commission of the village and the village engineer.

"D — The matter of future annexation shall be contemplated after negotiations with a view toward additional contributions to the cost of said disposal plant."

The board also discussed the possibility of appropriating $3,000 for the purchase of a sewage treatment plant site but action was deferred until the new board can have a voice.

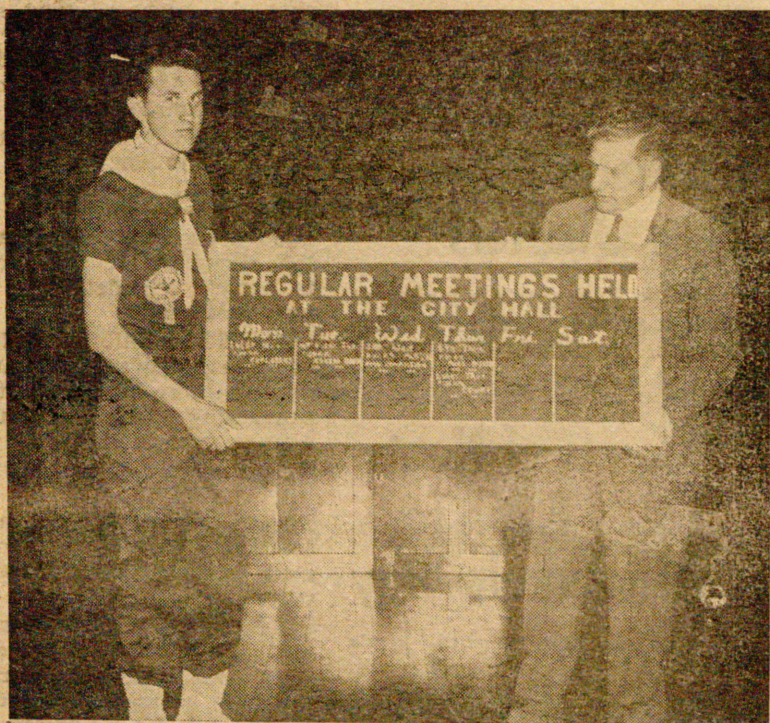

Originally the developers stated that it was prepared to build a sewage treatment plant to serve its entire subdivision of 760 lots and indicated it would be willing to sell the plant later to the village.

The village doesn't want to follow any course that might jeopardize sewer plans for the entire community. The trustees feel that if the entire subdivision were annexed without safeguards the people there, which would outnumber those in the village, might vote against any plan for providing the remainder of the community with a sewer system.

The board also rescinded a previous action which would have annexed the entire parcel if all legal requirements were met.

In the center photo Munch is shown presenting a bulletin board to the village of Mokena. Accepting this is Village Trustee Stanley Williams, representing Mayor James Marti who was unable to attend the ceremony. And in the bottom picture is Arthur O. Omland, "Mr. Scout" of Mokena, receiving the Minute Man Award from Paul M. Tikalsky of Joliet, district Scout executive of Rainbow Council, comprising Will, Grundy and Kendall counties. New Lenox Has New Paint and Decorating Store

A new business has opened in New Lenox, the New Lenox Paint and Decorating, Inc., Rt. 30, located in the former Braun's Sales rooms.

This paint and decorating store is owned and operated by William Rice and wife, who at present are living in Joliet, but will move to New Lenox as soon as housing is available.

Mr. Rice has been a painter, both interior and exterior, for the past 20 years. At present he is foreman of painting at the Nuclear Power station of Commonwealth Edison Co., at Dresden Heights, including the large sphere which houses the reactor. Mr. Rice is retiring from that position and will give his entire time to his new store.

It is the aim of Mr. and Mrs. Rice to give to New Lenox and area, a complete decorating service of paints, wall papers, tiles and anything needed and used in decorating homes. They invite everyone to attend the grand opening, browse around the store and perhaps share in the many prizes they are offering.

SEWER MEETING—There is no park district and no regular funds are available for the maintenance and care of the park. It was pointed out. Maintenance of the ballfield there has become a No. 1 headache, according to the talk Monday night.

Kenneth Oetter, of the American Legion post, told the board that care of the ball diamond had become fastened on him and a few other individuals. There are Small Fry Babe Ruth and two Frankfort teams, of older players, who use the park.

Last year, some of the trustees reported, strange teams that no one had heard of, moved in and used the park diamond without permission.

Payment of the light bill, for night games, and maintenance of the field and the equipment are the main problems.

Wesley DePorto, representative of one of the older teams, made arrangements with the board for his team to have the use of the diamond on two nights by paying for the lights on one and keeping up the field and the equipment for his team's games. DePorto said no one ed on the board of trustees at Manhattan. The total vote was 230.

Edward Boyle was high with 156 votes. Harold Mundt, an incumbent, was next with 110 followed by Edward Miller, incumbent, and Dale Vander Boegh each with 109. Frank McHugh polled 99 votes.

Re-elected was Eldon Johnson, village clerk. He was without opposition and received 198 votes.

—Changing Times

International jet air travel, only five months old, has gotten off to a rousing start. Time magazine says that Pan American's planes have been filled to 90 per cent of capacity, as compared to 50 to 55 per cent during the comparable months in past years. The company's total transatlantic business jumped 46% in two months, and still bigger increases are coming.

THREE DIED IN THIS WRECK on the outskirts of Tinley Park in the early hours of last Sunday morning—two young men and a girl. The car, believed to have been traveling at high speed, crashed thru a guard rail on the curve where Harlem ave. merges with Oak Park, struck a culvert, plunged into a ditch and rolled up on the shoulder paralleling Harlem ave. The driver, Elmer Juergens, 20, and Wayne Blume, 19, one of the passengers, had Tinley addresses. The girl, Arlene Lois Keuch, 19, resided in Orland township. Apparently all were instantly killed.

Cemetery Wins Court Battle After 20 Years

Climaxing court action dating back more than 20 years, the Circuit Court of Cook County has just granted Cedar Park Cemetery the right to use for cemetery purposes a 13-acre tract adjoining the present cemetery at 124th and South Halsted Street.

The Village of Calumet Park had sought unsuccessfully to prevent such use. However, the court's decision upheld Cedar Park's position that its park-like cemetery development actually enhances the neighborhood's beauty, and that no valid reason exists for restraining use of this additional property for cemetery purposes.

According to Cedar Park's President L. L. Cowan, plans are being made for immediate development of this area to match the quiet, green beauty of the cemetery's present in-terment property.

Oak Lawn Downs Lincoln-Way 9 to 3

Five runs on as many hits in the third inning gave Oak Lawn the lead over Lincoln-Way in a SW Suburban conference baseball game Tuesday night that was never relinquished and the game ended with the Knights on the short end of a 9 to 3 score.

Lincoln-Way drew first blood. Piepenbrink singled in the first inning to bring in the first run. It must be stated however, that Oak Lawn should be credited with an assist for getting the run in position to score. The Oaks were a little more than somewhat wobbly on defense as the game opened.

The Knights held their 1 to 0 lead until the 5th when the Oaks proceeded to bat around. When the inning was over the Oaks led 5 to 1. They added another in the fourth, one in the fifth and two in the sixth. The best the Rail-splitters were able to do was to score twice more in the fifth on 3 hits and 2 errors. Piepenbrink, who relieved Carter on the mound, had a good day at the plate. In four times at bat he singled twice and doubled. On the mound he allowed four hits, walked two and hit one batter. Carter gave up 11 hits and issued two passes. Knezovich, the winning pitcher, limited the Knights to five hits, walked one and hit one batter. His relief Kalinski gave up no hits but walked one man.

Bremen Wins Triangular Meet

A triangular track meet Tuesday night at Bremen began a full week of activity for Carl Sandburg High's tracksters. Bremen scored 57 1-5 to win, with the Eagles second on 47 2-5 and Rich third with 39 2-5.

In the frosh-soph meet Sandburg's Eagles came out on top with 57 1-5 points; Bremen had 51 1-5 and Rich 40. Sandburg is scheduled to meet Reavis in dual meet tonight and then journey to compete in the Palatine Relays Saturday.

Art Graffen's firsts in the hurdle events, and Tony Kanewsky's wins in the 880 and mile led the Sandburg frosh-soph win.

Summary:
High hurdles: Agnew (S), Everetts (R); 100 yd.: Paulsen (R), Tunstall (B); 880 yd.: Williams (S), Anderson (R); 880 Relay: Bremen, Rich.

440 yd.: Hughes (R), Barrett (S); low hurdles: Poppe (B), Agnew (S); mile run: Williams (S), Whillen (R); 220 yd.: Paulsen (R), Casey (B); shot put: Stenour (S), Tatum (B); discus: Randolph (B), Jaeklich (S).

Broad jump: Ragsdale (B), Agnew (S); high jump: McCarey (B), 4 tied for second; pole vault: Nelson (B), Jennings (S).

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

Oak Lawn has moved into the favorite role for the SW Suburban baseball crown. The rugged Spartans have taken the defending champ, Evergreen Park, and Bremen.

Rich remains unbeaten, but they have not been tested by anyone of the good teams in the SWS. It is doubtful that they will give much competition.

In fact, the Rockets have been wearing rabbits' feet. Some apparel for a Rocket, but nevertheless it would seem they have such. They have been getting four and less hits in a game and scoring 9 runs with the aid of about that many errors from their opponents. You try this, baseball managers.

Oak Lawn has shown reasonable pitching strength by holding the hard hitting Braves to four runs and limiting the Mustangs to just 5. They haven't been sensational in the hitting department, but have scored enough to win.

Maybe Sparta (Oak Lawn) will beat these fun loving Athenians of the SWS. Of course, historians are still trying to decide who really won the battle of the old world giants. They say that Demosthenes always got in the last word. However, I should not desire his eventual fate.

It seemed to me that the Pittsburgh Pirates had a good chance to win the National League pennant. Of course, I'm a prejudiced fan—I must admit right now a bit concerned. I'm still counting on the Brash Buccos to be more reliable than Chicago weather.

The Cubs are homer hitting wonders of the National league. It must be added that they are also fielding flubbers. If the Cubs hit 220 homers they could win the crown. This might happen if the ladies on Waveland avenue turned on the vacuum cleaners. You may name the brand. We are the owners of a diminutive G.E. It revolves around.

Bill Zelko, good wrestler at Lincoln-Way high school, was elected captain of the squad for the next season. Ron Larsen is high on "baby-face" Bill. Zelko won about 22 matches in the past season.

The Tony Bettenhausen story resumes in the next issue of the Semmler Press. Watch Tony—wait this isn't TV—ride with Tony—this isn't cinerama. Well . . . anyway, we will learn of some rather interesting events in his racing career.

Tony goes back to the "500" for another crack—missed again . . . another ride . . . on Memorial Day.

Sign Up 10 Players for Tinley Soccer Team — Must Have 1 More

Lyman Anfield announced that ten players have been signed for the Tinley Park soccer team. This number is one short to the total needed for one full team. Anfield is hopeful that eleven men and a few reserves will be secured by the proposed opening date sometime in May.

The Tinley Park team will play with Ford Stamping plant of Chicago Heights sometime in May. Other games are being planned and will be announced at a later date.

Most of the players are from Tinley Park. Those from town are Harold Verwey, Carl Galina, Lyman Anfield, Albert Noble, Wes Landau, Bob Lawrence and Ron Koning.

Bill Kosteki of Berwyn, Leonard Lawrence of Midlothian and Salvador Alaniz of Chicago are the out of towners. Alaniz is the secretary of National Soccer league and will probably coach the Tinley Park club.

Seek Help of Fathers in Little League Program

The baseball season is here again and Little Leaguers throughout the area are starting practice sessions.

In Frankfort, the youngsters practice Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings. When the weather does not permit outside practice, it is held in the school gymnasium.

Walter Niedringhaus is manager and Charles Zitter is coach.

These men would appreciate some help from fathers. It is a mighty big job and these are your sons. Any time spared for showing appreciation of the program, by showing up when possible for practices will be appreciated.

Golf Team at Sandburg Wins Three in a Row

Sandburg's golf team notched its third consecutive victory of the season against Evergreen Park, 167-195. The event was decided by medal play over nine holes with the four best scores of each team used for the final figures.

Tom Schreiber led the field for the winners with a fine 37 over Wayne with 47. Tom Cripps and Bill Johnson each carded a 43 to take second medal honors for Sandburg in scoring wins over Kuh and Blasi, respectively.

Jerry McBride came in with a 44 to outdistance Hale with a 51. The only Evergreen man to top a Sandburg golfer was Biel with a 50 over Richard Breitbarth with a 53. Coach Jim Zimmermann's boys began a full week of activity on Tuesday with a practice match against Blue Island. On Wednesday Morton was scheduled for an Oak Hills meeting and on Thursday Oak Lawn at Hickory Hills.

Set New Record For Sandburg In Track Meet

Two new school records were chalked up by Sandburg track men last week in a dual meet with Oak Lawn. Oak Lawn took the varsity meet 71-47, but Sandburg took the frosh-soph meet with 78 points to the hosts' 40.

Dan Wasick shaved one-tenth of a second off the 100 yard dash time in the frosh-soph meet with a 10.5 clocking. Dave Moore held the old standard with 10.6 in 1957.

Don Jennings vaulted 10 ft. 7 1/4 inches to top Mehlin Smith's top effort of 10 ft. 6 in. of the 1959 season. Reed Williams took first in the mile and 880, the only double winner for Sandburg.

Summary:
High hurdles: DeVries (O), Agnew (S); 100 yd.: Mitstead (O), Moore (S); 880 yd.: Williams (S), Richardson (O).
880 relay: Oak Lawn; 440 yd.: Barry (S), Murphy (O); low hurdles: DeVries (O), Agnew (S); mile: Williams (S), Frogue (O); 220: Mitstead (O), Pierce (S); mile relay: Oak Lawn.

Shot put: Trapp (O), Stoenour (S); discus: Fenwick (O), Hendricks (O); broad jump: Keneyop (O), Pierce (S); high jump: Mitstead (O), Katzman (O); pole vault: Jennings (S), Smith (S).

Backwood Trails

By ART SCHUMANN
The new regulations for boating in Illinois were introduced in the house of representatives last Wednesday. The new boat regulation and safety act, which includes licensing provisions for motorboats, both inboard and outboard, would become effective March 1, 1960. A fee of $3.00 for three years will be charged for the registration of motor boats only, but other regulations in the proposed law apply to all craft.

The bill lists equipment which is to be carried by all craft, among which must be lights, life preservers, proper mufflers, whistles, fire extinguishers, etc. The bill covers careless operation, reckless operation, interference with navigation, overloading, overpowering, incapacity of operator, riding on decks and gunwales and restricted areas. The department of conservation is given the right to designate certain areas as restricted to swimming, fishing, water skiing and other activities.

Traffic rules are clearly established by the bill as well. Accident reports, owners' responsibility, boat rental and local regulations are also spelled out. Penalties established by the bill would set fines from $10 to $500, and prison terms of 30 days to 6 months, depending upon the type of violation.
Illinois boats will be desig-

Tells of Life In Mission at "Roof of World"

On interesting program, "An Evening in Tibet," the "Roof of the World," will be presented at the Tinley Park Church of Christ at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 29. The program will be presented by Edgar Nichols.

Edgar Nichols

gar Nichols, a veteran missionary among the Tibetans of the upper Yangtze River valley, where he and his family spent many years.

During this time, the Nichols adopted two Tibetan boys, who they later brought to America.

Mr. Nichols brings colored movies of the Tibetan historical dramas and of some of his travels. He will lecture in native Tibetan costume, exhibiting and explaining many items relative to the religious father, who was taught by his father, etc. He told me some of the stories his grandmother had told him, how they moved from camp to camp, buffalo hunting, how they battled the Crow Indians, and other tribes. He knows the history of his people well — the northern Cheyennes who are known as the "Fighting Cheyennes." The amazing part was how they made their escape from Ft. Robinson, Neb., in the 1880's and fought their way back into Montana.

If any of our readers are interested in hearing some of the details of these incidents, drop us a card at the Semmler Press and let us know.

customs and daily life of the people.

Edgar Nichols is a graduate of the University of Nebraska with a B. S. degree, and of Cotner College, Lincoln, Neb., with an A. B. degree. He has taken graduate work at Jackson Christian college, Honolulu, and at Lincoln Bible Institute, Lincoln, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols plan to return to Hawaii to do mission work.

Auxiliary Police Direct Traffic At Church Supper

The Auxiliary police of Will county provided some special service last Saturday when they directed traffic and parking at the Frankfort Methodist church for those attending the smorgasbord. As a result of this service, there was no traffic jam.

Capt. John Van Donk was in charge, assisted by Rudy Urbano and Pat Spratt, all of Lincoln Estates.

Members of this police auxiliary are screened and tested by the Will county sheriff before they may become members. There are now 16 in the organization.

National Honor Society Aids College Loans

As a special project, the National Honor Society members at Carl Sandburg high school are planning to help raise money for the PTA college loan fund.

The Parent Teacher association of Carl Sandburg high school is currently sponsoring the college loan fund. The purpose of the fund is to assist Carl Sandburg high school graduates in attaining a college education. Every year a few very capable students are unable to attend college because of financial difficulties. The college loan fund has been created to help remedy this situation.

Loans are made available to graduates of Carl Sandburg high school who are attending college and who need financial help. Loans are granted in accordance with the funds available and the individual needs of the student. The maximum loan is $200.

The National Honor society is planning several fund raising activities to help contribute to the loan fund. In order that more loans might be available to the future graduates, the society is seeking the cooperation of all residents.

She will be among other parents and friends of the mentally retarded who will be greeted by Illinois' first lady, Mrs. William G. Stratton, who has invited the convention goers to a tea and reception in the Governor's mansion May 1 as one of the opening events of the meeting.

Participants will include leaders in government, health, welfare, education and community services.

Mrs. Bernard will represent the Will county parent group for M.R.C., which operates the Trinity school for children at Joliet.

Palos-Orland "Y" Seeks Funds To Buy Site

"The Palos-Orland YMCA has been declared an official department of the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago," states Wm. E. Cairnes, board chairman of the local YMCA, "and we will open a finance drive for $30,000 this Sunday for the purpose of purchasing land and operating the program for 1959."

"Property located between Southwest highway and Harlem ave. on 135th is being considered for the site and will be in easy reach of residents of Orland Park," he continues. James Gee is heading up the special gifts campaign while George Carroll and Lou Meredith are organizing the community division.

Those already indicating a desire to help include Orville Schmaedeke, Mrs. Margaret Loebe, Gene Kanost, Robert Metzger, Harold Yeager, Bill Zinn, Charles McKinley, Wm. Adams, Wm. Davidson, Peter Yoman.

Some programs in Orland Park include gym classes at the Orland school for boys and girls on Thursday afternoons, swimming instruction classes, day camp, resident camping, charm schools, indian guide clubs, etc.

The campaign workers will have a final meeting on this Sunday at Southmoor Country club at 2 p.m. and all are asked to attend. This is a golden opportunity for the Palos-Orland YMCA to have an inexpensive recreational activity for this area and it is hoped that each resident will support it to the fullest.

County Zoning Board Gives O.K. In Mokena Case

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The ever-present light of the Christ, Truth, will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the lesson-sermon entitled "Probation After Death," is the Golden Text for Isaiah (9:2): "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined."

The power of this light is also brought out in selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

Included in the Bible passages to be read is this verse from Matthew (5:16): "Let your light so shine before men, that they see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Ideas for items to be adopted by the Palos-Orland League should be forthcoming from the summaries presented. Further business of the evening will be to adopt by laws and elect members of the first board.

The League of Women Voters is a national organization with individual local Leagues throughout the country. There are approximately 1,000 local Leagues including those in Alaska and Hawaii with a total membership of 128,000 women. The Palos-Orland League will be the 70th in Illinois. As an organization, the League does not support or oppose any political party or candidate. However, it does actively support or oppose selected governmental issues. To protect the nonpartisan policy, board members of the League do not work in their parties while in office. The League nevertheless urges all other members to work, as individuals, in the parties of their choice.

By WM. F. WHITESIDE
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Adviser

Make plans early to get a soil insecticide for application to corn ground. A number of insects like the wireworm, rootworm, grub, grape colaspis, seed corn maggot and seed corn beetle feed on the underground parts of the corn plant. On the average, farmers are losing five to six bushels of corn per acre to these hidden pests. Two out of every three cornfields in Illinois will show a return large enough to at least pay for treatment costs.

To get maximum benefits, be sure to use recommended amounts of insecticides. The following dosages are recommended: 1½ pounds of actual aldrin or heptachlor per acre when broadcast and 1 pound of either per acre when used as a row treatment. Broadcast treatments are best, followed by row sprays, row granules and row fertilizer insecticides mixes. Deep placement of the insecticides (2 inches to the side and 2 inches below the seed) is not recommended.

Clover leaf weevils, small green worms that feed mostly at night on the foliage of clover and alfalfa plants, become active in late winter. Treatment, if needed, should come during the first three weeks of April. Be on the lookout for this pest.

4H Club work lost a staunch friend and hard working leader with the recent death of O. F. Gaebe. Many 4H leaders in this county knew Mr. Gaebe, since he worked in this section of the state and appeared at a number of 4H events in this county. Mr. Gaebe is succeeded by Richard O. Lyon.

Insect and disease control can be accomplished effectively with either sprays or dusts on flowers and vegetables. Spraying does a better job in the case of fruit trees. In applying sprays or dust, thoroughness is important. Be sure to cover all parts of the plant, including both sides of the leaves.

$100 gasoline loss is common on many farms. Unshaded barrel may lose 15% of contents. Adjusting carburetor has saved 4.5 gal. per day, timing 3 gal., grinding valves, 2.3 gal., and cleaning air filter, 2.8 gal.

U. of C. Gets $46,000 Grant for Research on Retarded Children

A grant of $46,000 was presented to the University of Chicago Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology by the National Association for Retarded Children for expanded research in reproductive and fetal pathology, on April 3.

The presentation was made to Dr. Lowell T. Coggeshall, dean of the Division of Biological Sciences, and Dr. Edith Potter, professor of obstetrics and gynecology of the University of Chicago.

Behind the grant which will step up research in this vital area is the moving personal story of Mrs. Herbert Zornow, mother of a retarded child who died.

Paul Zornow was born Dec. 11, 1956 in the Chicago Lying-in hospital. When he was a week old, his mother, Ethel Zornow, was told he was a mongoloid child. On July 11, 1957, Paul died of pneumonia. The next day his parents established the Paul W. Zornow Memorial Fund to be devoted to the encouragement of research in the field of mental retardation. Friends and relatives across the country sent monetary gifts rather than flowers for the baby who had never gone home.

The $46,000 grant to the University's Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology will cover a five year period and will enable an additional researcher to be assigned to the program.

THE POET

On April 16, 50 girls from the Carl Sandburg high school chapter of the Future Homemakers of America were the guests of the Chicago Art Institute at the annual fashion show presented by the Institute's classes in fashion design. The girls toured the Institute preceding the style show. An evening buffet at the May Pole room at Carson, Pirie and Scott and Co. completed the day.

Natl. Tea Has Larger Sales, Smaller Profits

H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Co., announced today that the company's net profits for the first quarter ending March 28, 1959 did not equal last year's record earnings for the first quarter of the company's operations, even though sales climbed to an all-time high for the first quarter of 1959. While rate of profit, as well as dollar earnings, was down slightly from the previous year, with the exception of 1958 net profits were still the highest for any first quarter reporting period in the company's 60-year history.

National Tea Co. total income, before federal taxes for the first quarter, 12 weeks ending Mar. 28, 1959 amounted to $3,625,036, as compared with income, before federal taxes, of $4,078,621 for the corresponding 12 weeks of 1958, resulting in a decrease in earnings of $453,585 before taxes.

Net income after taxes amounted to $1,755,036 for the first quarter of 1959, which is equal to 26¢ per common share on the average shares of the new $4 par value common stock outstanding, after provision for federal taxes of $1,870,000. This compares with net income of $1,938,621 for the first quarter of 1958, after provision for federal taxes of $2,140,000. Earnings for the first quarter of 1958 were equivalent to 30¢ per common share on the basis of the newly issued common shares, after the three for one split, which was effected March 26, 1959.

As previously reported, National Tea Co. sales stand at an all-time high for the first quarter of operations ending March 28, 1959, totaling $185,716,037 as compared with

Palos Heights To Hold First Election June 6

Ins. Palos 1-24 :

County Judge Otto Kerner this week entered an order to canvass the results of the April 11 election to incorporate the city of Palos Heights.

Until the canvass is made no action can be taken to hold an election of city officials. However, pending the outcome of the canvass, Judge Kerner also ordered the city officer's election to be set for June 6.

An estimated 85 per cent of the registered voters in the proposed limits of the city turned out to cast their votes in a strongly contested election. A total of 1,553 votes were cast: 850 votes "yes" and 684 voted "no" with 19 spoiled ballots.

Up for election will be a mayor, eight aldermen, city clerk treasurer and police magistrate. This election must be held within 60 days following the canvass.

The election was held under a "stayed" injunction which $175,242,410 for the corresponding periods of 1958. This is a sales increase of $10,473,627 for the year to date and a gain of 5.98 per cent over the previous record first quarter of 1958.

Mrs. Alma Brown, accompanied by her sister.

HOPE NOT TO NEED THIS OLD HOUSE much longer. The Orland Park Volunteer Fire Department needs larger quarters than the engine house shown here and the members are to launch a drive soon for funds with which to build a modern fire station, of sufficient size to accommodate its equipment. The relic now used by the department has a tendency to flutter when the wind blows.

in-law, Mrs. Delia Brown, of New Lenox, spent a few days the past week with their sister in law, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Boutwell, in Topeka, Kansas.

There will be an official board meeting at the Marlev church on Wednesday night, April 29. On Sunday May 3, the spring business meeting of the church will be held following a potluck dinner. All members of the church are urged to attend to hear the report from the building committee.

J. E. Corlette, president of the Montana Power Co., says "If tax-free federal government enterprises continue to expand and tax-free cooperatives continue to increase it will lead to complete government ownership of all business because government either must get money in the form of taxes from prosperous business and prosperous wage earners or it will have to take over the entire business and run that business for government profit."

REPORT CURES

More than 800,000 Americans have been cured of cancer and are still living, an officer of the American Cancer Society reports. Another 900,000 who have undergone treatment are in a five year observation period at end of which they will be judged as cured if their symptoms do not recur. Where the cure rate was one in 10 cancer cases in 1913, it is now one in three. Early diagnosis is vital.

Speed Is A Killer

Improved weather means that more automobiles will be on the road. The pressure of more automobiles means more accidents with resultant loss of life, personal injury and property damage unless—and it's a big one—unless drivers elect to use more care and caution and reduce speed.

Safety experts from Travelers Insurance say that speed is the cause of 40% of traffic accidents. The others are scattered among a variety of factors so speed stands out as the primary cause.

This is substantiated by other figures. Most of the deaths and injuries resulting from accidents in the open country are not the result of collisions between cars. The majority of such accidents result from cars leaving the highway and rolling or striking fixed objects—culverts, trees, poles, etc.

When a car leaves the highway the mishap can be blamed on loss of control by the driver, in most instances. There are some crashes that result from mechanical failures but they are few, the experts say.

And loss of control, they add, is usually linked with speed.

The slogan adopted by the state of Illinois last year—"Slow Down and Live"—should still be followed.

Most of us drive too fast and without reason. Some other statistics released by the experts should chill parents. Last year's records show that drivers under age 25, who make up less than 14% of all licensed drivers, were involved in 27% of the fatal highway accidents and 20% of the non-fatal crashes that perhaps maimed someone for life.

It is estimated that 900,000 young men and women will come of driving age this year. The insurance companies shudder when they think what might happen if all 900,000 became drivers and followed the tragic path of today's young motorists.

Fortunately there are many of this number who will not become drivers. There are still parents who wield enough authority to keep their youngsters grounded.

The experts ask this question. Who or what is responsible for this condition? Are the parents to blame, the traffic authorities or the schools?

The experts are inclined to the belief that it is a combination of all three things. More parents must face up to this problem that can cost the life of their children, the experts say; traffic courts must get tougher; more schools must provide driver-training programs and the young drivers must realize that thoughtless actions behind the wheel beget tragedy.

A name has been given to maimed and dead of traffic mishaps—the Luckless Legion.

Statistics, pledges and slogans do not seem to change us. Something more is needed. During 1959, the Luckless Legion will be meeting in our community . . . on a stretch of highway, in a hospital room, in the morgue.

You alone will know when the meeting time is near. In the temptation to bear down a little harder on the gas, to beat the darkness home, to test your reflexes when they are dulled by sleep or alcohol, to jay-walk on crowded streets, to forget caution when weather and road conditions are bad. During 1959, every time you are behind the wheel of a car, remember that the Luckless Legion is looking for recruits. Don't be one.

a sanitary sewer system is excessive for the people of Tinley Park and therefore should be defeated in the coming referendum. Again I feel that we should direct the Board of Trustees, particularly the newly elected members to start a sewerage system that will handle our present needs and provide provisions for future expansion when it becomes necessary.

Let's examine one of the points brought out in this brochure.

"It won't cost much for large pipes. It is expensive to dig trenches and re-surface streets."

It certainly is agreed that there is not much difference in the cost of a 12 inch or a 10 inch pipe. But if you'll notice the second part of the statement—it does become extremely expensive as the trenches become deeper. Now ask the Village Board about the depth of some of these sewer lines—something that isn't shown in the brochure.

For example: the line going north from the railroad tracks on Harlem ave. to 171st street is 20 feet deep at 171st street. What the board has tried to do is put sewers deep enough so that the village can expand to 159th street on the north and just tap into the existing deep sewers. This is just an example—it is generally true of the entire system. This certainly is admirable and generous of the board, but just remember that each and everyone of us must pay NOW for all these extras even tho it may not be used for some time. Again let's look at the line going north on Ridgeland ave. to 167th st. I asked the engineer about this particular line and he said that the village board directed him to put this line in. It's only going to cost about $40,000 or about $31 for each family in Tinley Park. Again there is a good possibility this line will not be used immediately. But then again what is $31.00 to the average family in Tinley Park? It just buys groceries for a week or so.

Now let's look at a slightly more expensive length of sewer, that main line running from Oak Park ave. to Harlem ave. along the Rock Island tracks. It is quite evident that its main purpose is to eventually pick up sanitary sewerage from the state hospital. There is nothing wrong with this but, as of now there is no definite commitment from the state as to their financial participation in this costly line.

Let's see if this doesn't sound more reasonable. Let's raise all sewers in Tinley Park to cut down the depth and therefore cut the cost. Let's raise them so as to provide for the needs of the present village and to provide for a reasonable amount of expansion. Then as the village grows to the north and south let's put in lift stations or make other provisions to raise this sewerage to our lines. The word lift station has been regarded as a dirty word among the village board but ask the people of Homewood about theirs—they find them completely adequate.

Now what is the purpose of all this? Let's provide a system that we can pay for now and not be paying for something now that won't help us for 20 or 30 years. Then as the village growth dictates, add to the system as required.

All of the above objections and suggestions have been brought up before the board at numerous public and private meetings but they have absolutely refused to consider them.

What we have before us is probably as near perfect a sewer system as can be proposed but the difficulty is that this near perfection must be paid for. This is a good opportunity for us tax paying citizens to indicate our displeasure of higher and higher taxes, to indicate that we want an adequate sewer system—not a perfect one, to indicate that we are unwilling to pay for sewers that will only come into full use 20 or 30 years from now. The best method to exhibit this is by a large majority voting NO in the coming referendum for the sanitary sewers.

Your truly,
F. P. Moolin Jr.

On Second Thot

by
Glenn F. Logan

Legends and literature contain many tales of gay, open hearted outlaws who lived by a simple code—rob the rich to give to the poor.

Robin Hood is perhaps the best known of the philanthropic banditti. He was a great one for shaking down wealthy men and splitting with the needy, according to the stories that have been handed down.

It could be said of him that he was the forerunner of the New Deal and the giveaway programs now become so popular.

Legends have been built up around other outlaws, like Jesse James, the Youngers, and Al Jennings to name a few, which would have one believe that they never would have held up a bank or a train had not some poor widow, or a nest of even poorer orphans needed money to meet a mortgage, pay for a surgical operation or make Christmas a happy one. And for clincher they were good to their mothers too.

There are numerous fictional characters who turned to burglary, with a bit of armed robbery tossed in at intervals, in order of aid the have-nots—at the expense of the haves.

Forty years ago it was Raffles—a character created by W. Somerset Maugham if memory serves me—who was forever aiding some worthy cause with someone else's money. Raffles also helped to make cigarette smoking popular—and respectable. It may sound a bit odd to credit a burglar with such an achievement but Raffles was not an ordinary burglar. He was a university graduate, had a knowledge of gems and precious metals usually not possessed by just one person, and was always impeccably groomed—always.

Raffles would just as soon have been caught by police as to have gone on a night time burglary in a business suit or even morning coat and striped trousers.

When he went out after 6:00 in the evening it was either black tie and dinner coat or white tie and tails. This might not be the costume favored by the garden variety of working burglars but it was a must with Raffles.

His counterpart today, The Saint, is a little more casual in his dress but he has an even greater knowledge than had Raffles.

The Saint also has a talent not enjoyed by Hornung's hero and should he ever decide to really hang up his picklocks and go legitimate he could make TV and carnival appearances with a knife throwing act. Come to think of it, he has a blonde that should wow audiences as a target.

Whatever these heroes are called and whatever the period may be in which they appear, such stories are lumped in one category—Robin Hood.

There is good reason for this. There are millions who never heard of Raffles, millions who never heard of The Saint, millions who never heard of Jesse James, his brother Frank; more millions who never heard of Al Jennings who cut quite a swath in the southwest as a train robber and after serving a sentence for robbing the mails was almost elected governor of Oklahoma; and still many millions more who are totally ignorant of the Younger boys and their link with the James brothers.

There are many more outlaws of fact and fiction that are known to comparatively small audiences but Robin Hood is universal.

Everybody knows Robin Hood. He has been translated into all languages. But what many persons overlook in reading the adventures of Robin and his successors, is that they were thieves first and philanthropists second.

And despite their seeming successes, young fry who are inclined to look upon their escapades as romantic and excusable because of the seeming philanthropy, will do better to remember that statistics show honesty is the best course.

If the call to succor one group at the expense of another is too strong to be resisted there is a legitimate way to satisfy this urge. Get elected to Congress.

Your Dental Health

(Dental disease affects at some time in life nearly every person. In the United States alone, it is estimated that dental decay and diseases of the gums and supporting structures of the teeth afflict all but two or three per cent of the population. In order to show our readers what they can do to improve their dental health, the Semmler Press in cooperation with Will Grundy Dental Society, today presents the first of a series of articles on "Your Dental Health.")

It begins to look as though tooth decay may lose its title of civilization's most widespread malady. There doesn't seem much likelihood of ever completely eliminating tooth decay as a menace but top flight authorities do see a dramatic reversal of the present trend and a better chance for everyone to have good teeth.

The chances of reducing the toll taken by other dental ailments are also growing bright.

"Never before has the dental profession been possessed of so many effective weapons for the prevention of disease," says the American Dental Association.

"There is little excuse today for the appalling statistics that reflect the enormity of the effects of dental disease.

"The problem is basically one of putting knowledge into action."

The chief weapon of the dentist is education, because unless the public learns the value of regular dental examinations and of proper oral hygiene and diet, the dentist cannot fully utilize the advances which dental science has made. But with these advances, he hopes to effect a sharp reduction not only in dental decay, but in other dental ailments as well.

Periodontal diseases, for example. These are the diseases of the gums and supporting structures of the teeth, and the chief reason for loss of teeth after the age of 35. These diseases actually cause more loss of teeth than does dental decay.

Early and regular dental treatment is also important in the aligning of teeth which have come into the mouth irregularly and in the correction of improper jaw relationship.

Another effective weapon in the fight against dental disease is the fluoridation of community water supplies. Fluoridation has reduced dental decay by as much as 65 per cent.

Letters to the Editor

Tinley Park, Ill.

Dear Sir:
I have before me the brochure describing the proposed sewerage system, waterworks and building extension which the citizens of Tinley Park will have an opportunity to vote upon May 2, 1959.

I don't believe that anyone could find much argument in the proposed waterworks and building extension—the proposed new water tank being a definite necessity for fire protection alone. But this letter is written in reference to the proposed sanitary sewer system, by far the most important and most expensive issue. Again, there are not many people in Tinley Park who would argue the need for sanitary sewers—it is of course necessary and extremely urgent. But you can be sure that you'll find an argument against this proposed method because of its overall cost to the taxpayers.

The people that are active in this fight against this system are predominantly the younger members of the community—normally men and women who are for each and every improvement. However, by being younger we feel the already heavy burden of federal, state and local taxes. We feel that it is the prerogative and duty of every citizen to fight inflationary spending of our elective governments and the easiest and most direct way is to start at the local government level.

To make my position clear, I feel that this proposal before us now for $1,475,000 for

Students and Teachers React Admirably to Surprise "Alert"

By MRS. EMIL WILLE
Frankfort 3161

The Civil Defense alert last Friday, was kept secret from the teachers and pupils of Ann Rutledge school, and the "surprise" catastrophe revealed that all were prepared and carried out life saving activities in an admirable fashion.

Preparations for the "Alert" were made following the Parent Teacher meeting April 13, at which time it was decided to keep the news from school personnel as much as possible. Present to outline the plans for the "Alert" were three civilian defense members, John Van Donk, Mrs. Dwight Nicholson, and George Kaehler, the school principal, Lloyd Alton and Mrs. John Van Donk.

When the alarm sounded at 10:30 a.m. three classrooms were on the playground for recess. They came in promptly and were ushered to the southwest wall of the school basement where they crawled under tables. The entire operation took three to four minutes.

The electricity remained on so that all could listen to the Conelrad station.

Two casualties were staged and preparations were made to transport them into the building.

The telephone proved an unsatisfactory means of communication as the school received no calls and those the school were supposed to contact by phone were out or the lines were busy. The school principal alerted the civilian defense officials in person, using his automobile.

Two civilian defense members arrived at the school and supervised the first aid of the two casualties. When the all-clear sounded, pupils marched to classrooms.

Students were given booklets on home protection exercises to take home.

The Auxiliary police met Sunday evening, April 19 and voted to give $50. to Jay Bissell again this year to use for the Babe Ruth league.

Most of the members of the Auxiliary police are attending the Red Cross training classes at the VFW hall in Mokena on Friday nights. They seek women to attend the Radiolo-

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Most students of elementary economics are taught that the Industrial Revolution started about 1850. This is the period when, thru the invention of the cotton gin and mechanical loom, created what we know as factories to manufacture cloth. Previously, preparation of fibers and their looming, had been done in homes and mostly by farmers in those hours not used in farming activities. This is termed "cottage industry."

Workers in the cottage industry period had to work long and hard for small reward as production per worker was small.

The advent of the Industrial Revolution brought about factories with concentration of mechanical equipment for production. The economic need to increase production and lower costs, brought about the shift from the village blacksmith and other artisans in fashioning of metal products and machines to the engineer and his involved designs.

Fortunes were made in the Industrial Revolution and the standard of living, was pushed higher and higher with less and less heavy hand labor. Analysts studying a country's standard of living, looked first at the installed electrical capacity per worker.

The large aggregates of capital needed, in these developments required bringing in many people as investors. History gives ample evidence of the rewards to investors thru good and bad times.

Probably the close of World War I will be known as the beginning of the Scientific Revolution when chemists, engineers and physicists etc. finally came into their own.

Since 1920 there have been many times as many new inventions as in all previously recorded history.

At first we were slow to accept the new ideas and products. Those firms which did not follow closely, the new developments have had hard going. Some of the metal fabricating organizations had considerable difficulty as furnace men and molders refused to handle molten metals strictly as according to laboratory instructions. The fault was that of management who were using their laboratory as a sort of sales "gimmick" rather than an integral part of production and new products. The price these firms paid for this non acceptance of scientific advances was very high and some firms never recovered from this error of judgment. More alert firms took their place in the field.

Until World War II, there were few firms which had their own research organizations which had substantial budget support and management influence. Today, three per cent of sales budgeted to research is not uncommon and some specialized fields such as electronic, chemical and pharmaceutical run as high as 8 to 10 per cent. In 1945 total research costs of the government were about $1 billion and industry about half this amount. By 1960 total research budgets are expected to be in excess of $12 billion with the government total less than $2 billion. The supplying of research equipment and laboratory controls is itself now an important business.

The research work has also speeded up the obsolescence of equipment and firms must depreciate at a faster rate.

New capital expenditure is now heavily weighted toward new equipment rather than new buildings. Whether business is good or bad, new discoveries force purchase of the newer equipment for a firm to stay competitive.

Artist Will Open Studio in Area; Will Have Exhibit at Sandburg

J. Francis Chase, well known illustrator will be coming to a favorite place when he moves to the Palos-Orland area next month.

This artist's most outstanding work, circulated in many national periodicals, has been inspired by the countryside. Some may have seen him in years past in the area, particularly in the vicinity of 135th and Harlem ave.

Chase will open his new studio in Spring Lake Park, Wolf road and 135th, on May 1, thus fulfilling his desire to live among the natural beauty reflected in his work. Since moving from Union, Neb. 20 years ago, Chase has lived in the Chicago area.

J. Francis Chase

On May 19, 20 and 21 Chase will display 25 of his original paintings at Carl Sandburg high school. The night of May 20 is the final PTA meeting of the school year and the occasion of the annual student art show. Several of the paintings in the collection will be those sketched from scenes in Palos and Orland townships. Chase explains his feelings about coming to the area in saying: "The only thing I know for sure is the painting of rural scenes. One's childhood impressions are lasting."

Belonging to the internationally recognized Society of Illustrators in New York, Chase's work has been recognized as important in the field of work by living contemporary illustrators. Evidence of this comes from the complete acceptance of his point of view towards water colors by the Chicago Art Institute.

Cover work for Field and Stream, Successful Farming; story illustrations for many magazines and commercial work appearing regularly in top industrial publications, Holiday and many others, attests to the wide acceptance of Chase's work.

Chase came to Chicago in 1928, planning to return to Union in a few months. However the great opportunities for art in a great industrial city captured him for good.

He studied at the Art Institute of Chicago and the American Academy of Art. The three men that Chase says contributed most to his art career are Joseph Binder of Austria, Georgy Kepes now on the Harvard faculty, and fine arts painter Raymond Breinin.

Chase sincerely hopes that he can become acquainted with the people of this area, having made many friends already thru his work. During the past six years Chase has been urged by people from a 25 mile radius of the area to begin classes, which in time he hopes to do.
